FAVOUR

I declare that my Father has accepted me in Christ Jesus, the Beloved. Because I am in Christ, I am highly favoured. Like Jesus, I am His beloved son, and He is well pleased with me. I have received the grace of God and so, I am favoured. In Christ, I am God's elect: His special favoured child. The Father loves me as much as He loves Christ Jesus, my big Brother.

The Father's favour constantly surrounds me as a shield from sunrise to sunset. The force of His favour attracts all that pertain to life and godliness to me. It repels whatever is not part of the blessing far away from me. His favour has separated me from the curse.

My favour with God translates into favour with men. I have favour with men that matter. The hearts of kings and men of influence whom God has ordained to play a part of my purpose are in His hands, and He turns their hearts just to favour me. God gives those with whom I have to deal, respect and attention for me. They are captivated by His Spirit and intoxicated by His instructions.

I am pleasing to God; my ways are pleasing to Him. Therefore, He makes even my enemies be at peace with me. There's no limit to whom my Father can use. So, even those who may not like me are used as instruments and channels of God's goodness in my life.

I am a son of God and I am led by the Spirit of God. My steps are ordered of the Lord and He takes delight in my ways. Therefore, I am always in the right place and at the right time. I am always where limitless possibilities take place, and I recognize them. I am always found where opportunity and preparation collide. Through the favour of God, doors open before me. His favour causes me to succeed where others have failed. God is unapologetically biased in my favour.

Therefore, I depend upon the grace and favour of God in all I do. I choose not to lean on my own understanding. I acknowledge that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise, nor riches to men of understanding, nor favour to men of skill; but time and chance happen to them all. I am always where time and chance happen to me. I rest in His favour upon me.

I declare that I enjoy abundant, strategic favour with God and find good understanding in my dealings with men. With each passing day, I experience increasing measures of favour with God and with men.

Thank You Father for the waves of Your favour are crashing all over me and they are carrying me to Your destination for me.
Hallelujah!

Q TESTIMONY Q

I am a commercial driver by profession. A few years ago, I visited the Elekahia police station to see a friend who is also a fellow commercial driver Mr. Michael Kalu who was arrested and detained by the police for an offence unknown to me. On reaching there, I was immediately arrested and detained in the police station. Later, I was informed that Michael Kalu and his friend were involved in the case of armed robbery and kidnap, so I became a suspect for the mere fact that I visited him in the police station. We were subsequently charged to court and remanded in the Port Harcourt prison for six good years awaiting trial.

The Almighty God came to my rescue when The Carpenter's Church came to Port Harcourt Prisons last year for a free medical outreach. After the ministration of the presiding pastor, Pastor Nkechi Ene, I immediately gave my life to Christ. The week after, the baptism of the Holy Spirit was ministered to me, and some of the new converts and I began to speak in other tongues.

A few months later when, the evangelism team came to fellowship with us, we were specifically asked to bring our petitions before God in that service. I told God my own. After that, the leader rounded off the prayer.

When our case was slated for judgment, I quickly remembered that I should be praying in tongues consistently because the other suspects had lawyers and I had no lawyer except God. Right there in the court, I began to speak in tongues silently to the Almighty God who knew that I was innocent of the crime. To the glory of God, I was acquitted and discharged while the two suspects were sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment. When they took me back to prison, I was given five minutes by the chief warder to pack my belongings and leave the prison yard immediately. In my mind, I was wondering what I have in the prison to pack and so I quickly ran out of the prison even before the five minutes to the free world.

I did not hesitate to run to The Carpenter's Church that same week I was discharged to fellowship and worship the Almighty God who rescued me from the hand of the devil. I want to sincerely thank the Almighty God, the pastors and the members of The Carpenter's Church for the good work they are doing in the prison of which I am a beneficiary.

Today, I am a born again Christian courtesy The Carpenter's Church. Glory be to God!
